NOTES IN SEASON.

L. PRANG & Co.'s travellers will call on the trade at once with samples of their new Christmas and New Year's publications for the season of 1891. They have had the co-operation of such artists as Ida Waugh, A. F. Tait, Sarah C. Sears, Rosina Emmet Sherwood, Louis K. and Lizzie K. Harlow, Watson, Beal and many others.

JORDAN BROTHERS, Philadelphia, announce that "Confessions of a Nun," by Sister Agatha, has gone into its fourth edition, though it was published less than three months ago. The book has been as bitterly and violently attacked as it has been highly and warmly praised. The author has already been offered ten thousand dollars from a large publishing house for a new book.

ROBERTS BROTHERS announce an edition of the Complete Prose Works of Walter Savage Landor, comprising "Citation and Examination of William Shakespeare, the Pentameron, Minor Prose Pieces and Criticisms," in one volume ;

"Pericles and Aspasia," in one volume ; and the "Imaginary Conversations," in five volumes. This edition will be a reprint of the English edition, edited by John Forster, containing the author's last revision.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready Samuel Smiles' "M memoir of John Murray, with his correspondence and an account of the origin and progress of the house, 1768-1843." According to Mr. Smalley "it is the second John Murray who is the hero of these two volumes." The whole story of his relations with Byron, Scott, Moore, Disraeli, Hallam, Lockhart, and many others, less distinguished, but still interesting men of letters, is told. The work is a contribution to the literary history of the century.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish shortly "The Iron Game," a new novel by Henry F. Keenan, the supposed author of "The Money-Makers," and the acknowledged author of "The Aliens" and "Trajan." The time of this dramatic and intensely interesting story is the first year of the war ; and Mr. Keenan, who served as a private soldier, presents some graphic sketches of scenes at Washington and Bull Run, as witnessed from the private soldier's point of view. Lincoln, Sherman and Jefferson Davis appear in the course of the narrative.

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON have just ready the first volume of "Institutes of Christian Religion," by Prof. E. V. Gerhart, of the Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church, Lancaster, Pa., with an introduction by Philip Schaff. The work consists of four parts : 1, The Source of Theological Knowledge ; 2, The Christ-idea the principle of Christian doctrine ; 3, Theology, or, the doctrine on God ; and 4, Cosmology, or, the doctrine on creation and providence. The work has considerably outgrown the proportions first planned upon its announcement in 1890, but is issued at the price then fixed. A full index of subjects has been annexed.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

THE Duc de Broglie declares that the Talleyrand memoirs, as published, are an exact reproduction of the four bound volumes certified by M. Bacourt and the Duchesse Talleyrand to be original, complete and faithful.

THE American [Authors'] Copyright League will celebrate the victory for international copyright by a dinner at Sherry's rooms, 5th Avenue and 37th Street, Monday, April 13, the eighth anniversary of the formation of the League.

THE Boston Pilot announces that George Parsons Lathrop, the author, and his wife, who is a daughter of Nathaniel Hawthorne, have become Roman Catholics. They were received into that Church on March 19 by the Rev. Alfred Young, of the Paulist Fathers on West Fifty-ninth Street, New York, and were confirmed by Archbishop Corrigan on March 21

In the course of a talk on literary style before the Methodist Ministers' Association of Chicago, on March 30, the Rev. Dr. Mendenshall, of Cleveland, it is reported, announced himself to be the author of "The Breadwinners." This, it is believed, is a misunderstanding on the part of the reporter. While it may be possible that Dr. Mendenshall is the author, he is not known to the publishers (Messrs. Harper) as such, neither is he the person who was paid for the work and is receiving the royalties on it.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. 4to: under 30 cm.; O. (8vo: 25 cm.) D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl. mar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Alden, Mrs. Is. M. ["Pansy," pseud.] Helen, the historian. Bost., D. Lothrop Co., [1891.] c. 5-76 p. il. D. cl., 50 c.

The heroine is a little child, incurably ill in a city hospital. Her days are full of acts of thoughtful kindness, and one of her greatest delights is to gather around her every Sunday morning the children of the hospital, and to tell them, in her simple way, the story of the Sunday-school lesson.

Barrows, J: H: Seven lectures on the credibility of the gospel histories; with introd. by F. E. Clark, D.D. Bost., D. Lothrop Co., [1891.] c. 10+146 p. D. cl., 75 c.

The author is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Chicago. "The lectures are printed as they were delivered to audiences in which were gathered persons who are rarely seen in Christian churches." They examine the evidence in favor of the truth of the Gospels, the miracles of which they tell, and the resurrection. With the exception of the last two, the lectures have appeared in the Golden Rule.

Bayliss, Alfred. Easy lessons on the Constitution of the United States; incl. the Constitution itself, and the history of its adoption. Chic., W. W. Knowles & Co., 1891. c. 143 p. D. bds., 50 c.

Designed for use with larger reference works, and interleaved with blank pages for preservation of notes from these to be made by the pupils. The text of the Constitution is given, and a history of the movement leading to its adoption, prepared by J. H. Beadle, in 1889, for the Associated Press. The lessons consist of questions on and summaries of the text.

Belot, Adolphe. The woman of ice; from the French. St. Paul, Minn., The Price McGill Pub. Co., 1891. c. 372 p. D. (Idle moments ser., no. 1.) pap., 50 c.

Bible. The Psalms: a new translation; with introd. essay and notes by J: De Witt, D.D. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., 1891. c. 38+325 p. O. cl., $2.

"Some of our English Psalms are nearly faultless, while others fall in bringing out the spirit and rhythm of the old Hebrew bards, or are even prosaic, awkward in expression and obscure." The basis of the present translation is "The praise songs of Israel," published in 1884, so completely rewrought, however, that it may be called a new translation. The Psalms were not only poetic in content, but also in form. Special attention has been given in this new translation to preserving the rhythmic effect of the originals as far as is compatible with faithfulness; to restoring the proper tenses; and to the recovery of lost emphasis due certain words. A critical note precedes, and textual commentary follows each Psalm. The essay considers at some length the character and authorship of the Psalms, their use in worship and the ethical significance of the imprecatory psalms. Dr. De Witt is a professor at the New Brunswick, N. J., Theological Seminary, and one of the revisers of the Old Testament.

Bruce, W. Cabell. The negro problem. Balt., Md., J. Murphy & Co., 1891. c. 33 p. O. pap., 25 c.

The author regards the negroes as an essentially degraded race, devoid of intelligence and morality; they are a perpetual menace to the whites; "there are no parties at the South but the white man's party and the black man's party; there is no issue but the race issue." No solution of the negro problem is offered, but further "intermeddling" on the part of the national government or northern reformers is opposed.

Bunner, H. C. Zadoc Pine, and other stories. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1891. 5+256 p. D. cl., $1.

- Christie Redfern's troubles; by the author of "Mark Wedgwood's wooing." N. Y., Fleming H. Revell Co., 1891. 384 p. 12° cl., $1.
- Clarke, J. Freeman. Autobiography, diary and correspondence; ed. by E. Everett Hale. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1891. c. 3+430 p. por. D. cl., $1.50.
Dr. Clarke never completed his autobiography, which he began to write in 1883. It brings the story of his life down to 1840, after which his diary and letters carry it on. His home was Newton, Mass., until 1833. On leaving the Divinity School he took up missionary work in the West. In after life he was fond of referring to his adventures in Kentucky. In 1840 he returned East; a year later he became pastor of the Church of the Disciples in Boston, over which he continued until his death in 1888. Dr. Hale has supplied missing links and written a chapter on the character of the man. A list of Dr. Clarke's writings, including those which appeared in periodicals and pamphlet form, is given. Among the letters given are several written to Emerson, the Channings, Margaret Fuller and other distinguished writers.
- Conklin, Mrs. Nathaniel. [formerly Jennie M. Drinkwater.] Second best. Bost., Bradley & Woodruff, [1891.] c. 2+323 p. D. cl., $1.50.
The father of Rachel Ennis was suddenly stricken with blindness, and it became necessary for her to exchange her luxurious home for a life of privation in the country. In alluding to his daughter's hardships Mr. Ennis regrets that the "Second best" has always been her last. The scene is New England. The story tells how the ministrations and self-sacrifice of a young girl brought others to a realization of their deficiencies of character.
- Crooker, Jos. H. Different New Testament views of Jesus. Bost., American Unitarian Assoc., 1891. c. 80 p. T. pap., 15 c.
Reprinted from The Unitarian, April-July, 1890. The author finds an argument against the existence of a divine nature in Christ, in the fact that the writers of the New Testament have different conceptions of his person. That the historical development of Christianity, even in its first centuries, shows divergent tendencies and changes, proves, he thinks, that the Christian religion is "essentially human."
- Dame, Lorin L. Typical elms and other trees of Massachusetts; with introd. chapter by O. W. Holmes, and il. from phot. by H. Brooks. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1890. 89 p. 50 il. F. cl., net, $15.
- Daudet, Alphonse. Sappho. N. Y., Street & Smith, 1891. c. 3-203 p. D. (Sea and shore ser., no. 29.) pap., 25 c.
- Davies, T. A. Am I Jew or Gentile? Read and see. N. Y., E. H. Coffin, 49 John St., [1891.] 2+87 p. S. pap., 25 c.
On the proper reading of the first chapters of Genesis. The author holds that "Adam" and "The Adam" are distinct terms, the latter denoting a man who was the direct progenitor of the Hebrew race, all of whose descendants, save Noah and his family, were destroyed in the Deluge. The descendants of "Adam" were not so destroyed.
- Denton, Clara J. Little lines for little speakers; containing short and easy pieces for children, entirely new and original, suitable for juvenile exhibitions and entertainments. N. Y., Dick & Fitzgerald, 1891. 16°, pap., 15 c.

Pattee, F. L. Literature in the public schools. Cin., O., Teachers' Co-operative Pub. Co., [1891.] 48 p. O. (Library of educ., no. 3.) pap., 20 c.

The author is Principal of Coes' Academy, Northwood Centre, N. H. He points out the necessity of instilling into every child a taste for the best literature, recommends that the reading of good books should be begun in the schools with the youngest children, and then marks out a graded course of reading, embracing the classic literature of the English language.

Peet, Stephen D. Emblematic mounds and animal effigies. Chic., American Antiquarian Office, 1890 [1891.] c. '90. 22+350 p. il. maps, O. (Antiquarian lib., Prehistoric America, v. 2.) cl., $3.50.

Comprises results of personal explorations of effigy mounds in Wisconsin, Iowa and Ohio, as well as descriptions of the explorations made by other persons in Dakota, Georgia, Florida and elsewhere. The mounds were built to resemble wild animals, were totemic in character, and were also put to practical use as screens for hunters, sentinel posts, defences for villages, etc.; they also reveal certain strange superstitions and customs. Who were their builders is uncertain; the theories advanced are given. The illustrations are from drawings by the author, who is editor of the American Antiquarian.

Rigdon, Jonathan. Grammar of the English sentence, and introd. to composition. Danville, Ind., The Indiana Pub. Co., 1890 [1891.] c. '90. 4+281 p. D. cl., 85 c.

The author, a professor in the Central Normal College of Indiana, has taught English grammar for fifteen years, and bases his work on his own experience and some one hundred other grammars, from which he has selected what he deems best. The system of diagramming the sentence originated by Prof. W. F. L. Sanders is given, and the method of analysis of Pres. Alfred Holbrook. The elementary principles of English composition are made clear.

Robbins, Mrs. S. S. Huldah Brent's will. Bost., Bradley & Woodruff, [1891.] c. 358 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

At eighty-two years of age Huldah Brent realized that she was dying, and sent for Lawyer Raymond to draft her will. After telling her purpose in making a bequest to Paul Ainsworth, she solemnly enjoined Raymond to carry out her wishes. The story tells of his temptation and fall, and their effects upon Paul Ainsworth. The scene is in Vermont. The hero is one of the Green Mountain boys who attained honor as Colonel in the Rebellion.

Master Tommy Rockafellar begs to go to sea, and at last wrings reluctant consent from his parents. He sails as midshipman in the Lady Violet, and gives a circumstantial account of the happenings of his voyage. He learns the routine ship-life, hears sea-yarns, encounters lightning and icebergs, and finally returns, having gained material, as he says, for many a "twister."

Speight, T. W. Hoodwinked. N. Y. and

Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., 1891. 140 p. D. (Globe lib., v. 1, no. 147.) pap., 25 c.

Andreas Levandros holds a forged note of Stephen Kenyon's which he uses to induce Kenyon to acquiesce in a plot by which he shall, by means of murder and false personation, enjoy a baronetcy, under condition of marrying Levandros' daughter. Kenyon and Miss Levandros apparently acquiesce in the scheme, in order to hoodwink the man who has them both in his power.

Steiner, Bernard C. The history of university education in Maryland; [also] The Johns Hopkins University (1876-1891), by Daniel C. Gilman; with supplementary notes on university extension and the university of the future, by R. G. Moulton. Balt., Md., The Johns Hopkins Press, 1891. c. 73+14 p. O. (Johns Hopkins Univ. studies, 9th ser., nos. 3-4.) pap., 50 c.

Mr. Steiner's paper deals with collegiate education in Md., exclusive of Johns Hopkins. No collegiate institution was founded until after the Revolution. The history of extinct colleges and Roman Catholic institutions is given. President Gilman gives the history of Johns Hopkins from 1876-91, including his own inaugural address as first president, and the address of President Eliot at the "Inaugural assembly." The substance of the addresses on "University extension" delivered before Johns Hopkins and other university audiences, by R. G. Moulton, of Cambridge (Eng.) University, concludes the publication.

Dr. Talmage agrees with Rénan in declaring that a wonderful harmony exists between the Evangelical picture and the country which serves as its frame. His "Life of Christ" was partly written in Palestine, and includes much relating to the general life of the inhabitants, their customs and physical environment. An account of his travels precedes the sacred narrative. The book is copiously illustrated by wood-cuts of Syrian scenery and paintings of old and new masters, and there is a reproduction, in colors, of the Munich cyclorama, "Jerusalem on the day of the crucifixion."

Mary Smith, who, despite her prosaic name, is a romantically pretty girl, inherits a fortune on condition of living in a certain old house connected with a distillery. Her school-friend, Georgie Oliver, visits her, and discovers that some person or persons are plotting to drive her friend insane by frightening her with cruel tricks. Georgie begins investigations which finally lead to the discovery of the guilty persons.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ATCHINSON, KAN.—Downs & Keating, booksellers, have dissolved partnership.

HUNTSVILLE, ALA.—According to the Chicago Stationer and Printer, Cooper & Hill, booksellers and stationers, made an assignment Feb. 22. Their liabilities are about $6000 and assets estimated from $4000 to $6000.

MARIETTA, O.—E. R. Alderman & Sons, proprietors of the Marietta Bookstore, and also of the Marietta Register, weekly and tri-weekly paper, gave a banquet on the evening of the 12th inst., at the Hotel Brunswick, to their employees, celebrating their third year of business since the great fire of March 13, 1888, which destroyed their entire plant. This was the first occasion on which the employers met face to face all of their employees, about twenty-four in number, at the same time. Resolutions were offered by the employees, thanking the firm for past kindnesses, and pledging themselves to more faithful performance of duty.

NEWARK, N. J.—"The sale of the Riley-Osborn Company's property was effected on March 7, by Receiver J. Frank Fort, and the sale has received the sanction of Chancellor McGill. The buyer was Samuel Klotz," says the American Stationer, "and it is believed he will be the President of a new company to continue the manufacture of fancy brass goods. His original offer was $55,000. It was raised $1000 by a bid of J. B. Mayo, and Mr. Klotz saw him and raised him $1000. Mr. Mayo dropped out and Mr. Klotz took the property for $57,000."

PORTLAND, ORE.—J. Keating, bookseller and stationer, has sold out.

TOPEKA, KAN.—H. L. Bunnell is selling out his stock of books.

WACO, TEX.—William P. Glenn, bookseller and stationer, is advertising to sell out.

YAZOO CITY, MISS.—W. H. Stubblefield & Son, booksellers, have dissolved partnership.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

APRIL 4, 1891.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

"THE WEAK SIDE OF BOOKSELLERS."

WE note with satisfaction the effort of our friend, The Newsman, to point out to the booksellers the error of their ways. With a disinterestedness that almost bordered on recklessness, our contemporary last month actually left his fold unguarded for the space of about $7\frac{1}{2}$ inches of leaded long primer type, in order that he might take time to point his finger at "the weak side of booksellers." He calls attention in his issue of March to the fact that "it is nearly ten years since New York booksellers met to take formal action on trade abuses." We regret to confess that it is nearer sixteen years ago, friend Newsman.

"Every other class of merchants," the Newsman truly continues, "are banded together. The question of the utility of union is no longer in dispute. That point has been settled long since. The banding together of class interests means progress and co-operation that solidifies and strengthens the unit body. The individual is sunk, but the power for organized action is increased in ratio with the force that moves the organized body."

"There is much ado about American push and enterprise. We point to slow-moving European methods, but sometimes facts are against us, as, for instance, the thorough and complete affiliation of the German booksellers. The following notice, taken from the Export Journal of Leipzig, Germany, will give our conservative brethren a shock:

"A Booksellers' School is now being opened in Prague under the auspices of the Booksellers' Union in that town. Every member of the Union binds himself to let his apprentices and assistants attend the school, which is held twice a week from 7 to 9 in the evening. The course of instruction lasts three months and includes arithmetic, correspondence, bookkeeping, the law of bills of exchange and the law relating to the book trade. The instruction is given alternately in Czech and German. At the conclusion of the course certificates will be awarded."

"The wood-choppers and dry-goods store pharisees, who only know a book by its title and cover, would have to take a back seat, if such action as the above was taken by the legitimate booksellers of this and other cities in our country. Will the American bookseller put on his thinking-cap for a short while, and figure out the advantages that would accrue from united action, guided by a purpose at once unselfish, liberal and progressive? As an individual in the commercial world, you count for nothing; but as an atom in a large body, you count for everything. Organize."

Does our esteemed contemporary catch the drift of the argument of the languid, hyperæsthetic, preraphaelite order of genius, that "true greatness can only be achieved through much suffering"? That is what is the matter with the book trade to-day. It has suffered, true; but it has not suffered nearly enough to realize its greatest needs, and to maintain that perfect union which gives strength.

The American Book Trade Association is still in existence, in so far that it never was formally disbanded. The season in which it was organized was inimical to work and growth. The enervating heat of the summer of 1876, and the general demoralization brought on by the excitement over the Centennial Exposition, were in themselves obstacles great enough to impede progress. But the greatest obstacle of all was the lack of co-operation on the part of the membership.

The times were not then ripe for such an organization. Jealousy and lack of confidence in one another attended every movement, and a short-sighted policy finally prevailed. From the Centennial year the book trade dates its hardest times. When his measure of misery is full and overruns, but not before, the bookseller will take means to protect himself, and will make common cause with his neighbor against the evils which beset them—if the experience of past ages teaches us any truth at all. When that time comes, the A. B. T. A., like Barbarossa, may be awakened from its long sleep and gird its loins for the fight which must end in victory.

In the meantime we agree with the Newsman that the book trade get together and have a talk. Talk leads to something in the long run, and the discussion of grievances may bring about a suggestion of remedies.

A SOCIETY of American Authors, for the purpose of maintaining, defining and defending literary property and the promotion of international and domestic copyright, was formed at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, March 30. Dr. Richard Clarke was made President, Katherine Hodges Secretary and Caroline Le Roy Treasurer. Vice-Presidents from every State will be chosen. Ella Wilcox, Kate Field and Lillie Blake were among those present.

STEAMING WINDOWS.

THE subject of "steaming windows" came up for discussion in a late issue of the Publishers' Circular and the following are some of the remedies suggested:

"I believe that if the window is coated with a preparation consisting of three parts methylated spirits and two parts glycerine there will be no condensation, but I have had no occasion to give it a trial. My windows have always been airtight, and we keep them carefully closed. On a very cold day, if the shop is very warm, we only open them very occasionally, and shut them again almost directly."

"A remedy I found out ten years ago, and I have never found it to fail: 1st. Don't put gas-lights into your windows. 2d. Put a ventilator as near the ceiling as you can get it, so as to let out the heat. 3d. Keep your door open and let the heat out and your customers in, and show the public that you do not only want them to look into your clean bright windows, but that you invite them inside of your bright and cheerful shop."

COMMUNICATIONS.

ABUSE OF COPYRIGHT-REGISTRY.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25, 1891.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

DEAR SIR: On March 2 we addressed a letter to A. R. Spofford, Librarian of Congress, in reference to the gross violation of the intents and purposes of the copyright laws by certain unscrupulous publishers who have recently reprinted old books under new titles and foisted them upon an unsuspecting public as late publications. We inquired by what right a publisher could change the title of a work printed forty years since, reprint it with a new title, and claim copyright on the same. We inquired further whether the United States Government lent its aid to the furtherance of such unlawful practices. Mr. Spofford replied as follows: "I have to advise you that no question concerning the validity of a copyright can be determined under our laws by any other authority than a United States Court. This office has no discretion or authority to refuse any application for a copyright coming within the provisions of the law. . . . It is made the legal duty of the undersigned to record every copyright claim in the order of receipt without regard to originality and even without reference to evidence of ownership. Thus many fraudulent or deceptive titles to publications are entered like those you refer to. It is surprising that authors and publishers do not combine to secure such amendments of the law (through the committees of Congress) as would introduce greater certainty into valid claims to copyright property and defeat dishonest practices on the part of pseudo-claimants of copyright."

It can readily be gathered from Mr. Spofford's letter that there is much need for reforming the present loose system of granting such an important privilege as the copyright laws bestow. No publisher should be permitted to issue an old book under a new title, or copyright an old book and issue it under a pretence of its being a recent publication. All applicants for copyright should receive a question blank in which the fullest information should be given respecting the work they intend issuing.

Very respectfully,

JORDAN BROS.

OBITUARY.

DR. HOWARD CROSBY, instructor, clergyman and author, died March 29, aged sixty-five years. He was of Knickerbocker descent, and born in New York City, February 27, 1826. At the age of fourteen he entered the University of the City of New York, of which his father had been one of the founders. After he was graduated he went to Dutchess County, and worked on a farm for three years. In 1851 he became Professor of Greek at his Alma Mater, and remained there in that capacity until 1859, when he left to take a similar chair at Rutgers. Two years after his removal to Rutgers he became pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Brunswick, N. J., adding his duties as a pastor to those of a professor. In 1863 Dr. Crosby resigned his professorship and came to New York to become pastor of the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church, which is now hardly known by any other name than "Dr. Crosby's Church," where he remained until the time of his death. From 1870 to 1881, Dr. Crosby acted as Chancellor of the University of New York, and has been a member of its Council since 1864. In the year 1877 Dr. Crosby helped to organize the Society for the Prevention of Crime, of which he was the President from the first. Among his published books are the following: "Lands of the Moslem" (1850), "Edipus Tyrannus" (1851), "Notes on the New Testament" (1863), "Social Hints to Young Christians" (1867), "Bible Manual" (1869), "Jesus—his life and work, as narrated by the four Evangelists" (1870), "Healthy Christians" (1872), "Thoughts on the Decalogue" (1874), "The Christian Preacher," the Yale lectures for 1869-'80, "True Humanity of Christ" (1881), "A Commentary on the New Testament" (1885), "Bible Views of the Jewish Church" (1888), "The Seven Churches of Asia, or, worldliness in the Church" (1880), "Book of Nehemiah" and "Notes on Joshua."

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Scribner's Magazine has published a "folder" containing twenty questions (with answers) about steamships, suggested by its articles on Ocean Steamships, beginning in the April issue. It is similar to the one "About Railways," published last year.

The Newsdealers' and Publishers' Bulletin is the title of a new monthly journal devoted to the interests of "all engaged in the production and sale of periodicals." The first issue is dated March, and contains 24 pages, 9 x 12 inches in size, nearly all advertising matter, presenting from this point a more prosperous appearance than its older rivals. The office of publication is 31 Beekman Street, New York.

The Magazine of New England History is made up of original and selected articles relating to New England local and family history; notes and queries, book notes; and announcements of local and family histories in preparation. The editor and publisher is R. H. Tilley, of Newport, Long Island, who respectfully invites all interested to furnish for publication articles and items relating to New England local, family and church history. The magazine is a quarterly.

THE INTERNATIONAL NEWS COMPANY will receive subscriptions for The Ladder, a review of public affairs, literature, science and art, published by Marshall Brothers, London. The editor is Mr. David Balsillio, and some of the best English papers acknowledge that the paper has marks of intelligence, wide-awakeness and all-round capability. Taken as a whole it is well up to date and contains a mass of sound good reading, specially appealing to those in earnest about self-culture.

THE TEACHERS' CO-OPERATIVE PUBLISHING Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, have begun to issue in monthly parts The Library of Education. Every number will contain from 48 to 96 double-column pages, and the volume for the year is intended to make a complete cyclopædia of education. The subjects of the volumes thus far planned include Principles in teaching, Literature in the public schools, Civics, Arithmetic, Geology, Morals in public schools, Educational history, Management of country schools, and The schools of Philadelphia.

The Modern Cemetery is the title of a new monthly publication, the first number of which will be issued at once by R. J. Haight, 243 State St., Chicago. Its object, as may be surmised from its name, is the dissemination of modern ideas in cemetery management. The March number will contain, among other interesting matter, the following articles: "Modern Cemeteries," from the writings of Adolph Strauch, the father of the lawn plan in cemeteries; the first of a series of articles on "Preliminary Work in Laying Out Cemeteries;" "Cemeteries from a Sanitary Point of View;" "Suggestions to Cemetery Lot Owners;" "Wearing Hats at Funerals," etc.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

THE BOSTON BOOK Co., 15½ Beacon St., Boston, has published four catalogues of periodicals in numbers and in sets, which they offer for sale. The lists include a number of scarce periodicals which are not frequently met with in booksellers' catalogues, and dealers interested will therefore do well to send for the lists, which, by the way, are models of what such catalogues ought to be—concise and neat. (Nos. 1-4, 8°.)

MR. MAX COHEN, librarian of the Maimonides Library, 203 East Fifty-seventh Street, N. Y., has prepared a catalogue of the books in the library which he thinks will prove attractive to girls from fourteen to eighteen years of age. He has made it a point to select those most congenial to a girl's tastes, which at the same time will stimulate their thinking, and be conducive to mental growth. (8 p., 24°.)

Catalogues of New and Second-hand Books.—U. P. James, (Davis L. James), 131 W. 7th St., Cincinnati, O., chiefly history and belles-lettres. (No. 37, 16 p. 8°.)—Max Kantorowicz, Via Alessandro Manzoni, 5, Milan, Miscellaneous, comprising a large collection of historical and architectural works. (780 titles.)—Luzac & Co., 46 Gt. Russell St., London, Oriental list, Feb., 1891. (V. 2, No. 2, 16 p. 16°.)—Henry Stevens & Son, 39 Gt. Russell St., London, Americana. (No. 23, 16 p. 16°.)

"TRIFLES LIGHT AS AIR" are sometimes "confirmations strong as proof of Holy Writ." The N. Y. World says that "it is easier for a man in Chicago to pay $14,000 for a Bible than for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle."

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

MR. GIBBINGS, London, will shortly publish, in a limited edition, "The Memoirs of Lady Hamilton," edited and annotated by Mr. W. H. Long, with portraits of Sir William Hamilton, Lady Hamilton and Lord Nelson.

HEINEMANN, of London, announces a new volume dealing with the much-discussed Marie Bashkirtseff, entitled "The Social Life of Marie Bashkirtseff, being extracts from her letters and journals, illustrated with drawings and studies."

THE Montesquieu manuscripts, soon to be published by his descendants, are eagerly awaited in France. Two of the papers, an essay on "Universal Monarchy" and one on "Reputation," were recently read before the French Academy of Moral and Political Sciences.

IMRIE & GRAHAM, 26 Colborne St., Toronto, Ontario, will publish early next month a volume entitled "Poems, Grave and Gay," by Mr. Albert E. S. Smythe. The book will consist of a selection from his contributions to various publications in England, Ireland, Scotland, the United States and Canada, and will extend to about 200 pages.

HOWARD REDWOOD GUILD, of Providence, R. I., has written and just published a genealogical work entitled "Ancestry of Calvin Guild, Margaret Taft, James Humphreys and Rebecca Covell Martin." Among the other related families are the Cushmans, Allertons and Howlands of "Mayflower" stock; the Drapers, Whitings, Wares, Metcalfs, Brownes and others prominent in the early history of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island colonies, including in all over one hundred surnames.

JULIUS BIEN & Co., New York City, announce that they will publish an "Atlas of the State of New York," "provided sufficient encouragement is secured to warrant so costly an undertaking." Among the proposed features of the work are these: A general map of the State, exhibiting county and town boundaries, etc.; railroads, canals and all important cities and towns; temperature and rainfall maps; detailed maps of the counties, sixty in number, showing public roads, rivers, lakes, city and township boundaries, etc.; railroad lines and stations; street maps, on a large scale, of the principal cities; lines of original land patents; an alphabetical list of counties, townships, cities and villages, with population from last census, and an enumeration of all post-offices.

T. FISHER UNWIN has nearly completed preparations for a "History of the Press." The volumes will deal in the first place with the British press, and afterwards with the Continental press and the American. In each case the history of the great journals will be treated in connection equally with the political and social events they have influenced and the characters and methods of the men who have directed them to these ends. In a few instances a single journal has played a sufficiently conspicuous and important part to furnish abundant materials for a single volume, but in others the general characteristics of a section of the press will combine many newspapers and personalities into one work. The first volume will be devoted to the Times, and others have been arranged to treat of "The Provincial Press," "The French Press," "The German Press," "The American Press," and "The Comic Press." The volumes will be issued under the general editorship of Mr. Henry Norman.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis, will find it to their advantage to put after their firm name the word [Cash].

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS NEW BOOKS

A GREAT LITERARY WORK.

Memoir of John Murray,

With his Correspondence and an Account of the Origin and Progress of the House, 1768-1843.
With Portraits.

By SAMUEL SMILES.

2 VOLS., LARGE 8vo, WITH OVER 1000 PAGES, $9.00.

From G. W. Smalley's Despatch to N. Y. Tribune.

"It is the second John Murray who is the hero of these two volumes. The whole story of his relations with Byron, Scott, Moore, Disraeli, Hallam, Lockhart, and many less distinguished, but still interesting men of letters, is told. It is a contribution to the literary history of the century."

From Harold Frederic's Despatch to N. Y. Times.

"One of the most valuable and entertaining contributions to English literary history in many years. No other posthumous work of our time affords such keenly drawn and intelligent pictures of a galaxy of great writers and striking personalities."

PRESS NOTICES.

"There is an air of verity in this strange narrative that is as fascinating as a romance, and yet there is no appearance of its being a work of fiction. The pictures of the inner life of a convent are novel and well drawn, by one who has evidently 'been there.' The book is not written in a sensational style, but it has already made a sensation, the demand for it being extraordinary."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

AN ANSWER TO VILE ATTACKS.

"Contains many sweet and pure stories. It may be called a Decameron of piety."—Brooklyn Advertiser.

No Boycott Can Stop its Sale.

Booksellers who cannot secure the book through their jobber will be supplied by the publishers

Caution!—There have recently been issued several cheap reprints of the 1847 edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, an edition long since superannuated. These books are given various names,—"Webster's Unabridged," "The Great Webster's Dictionary," "Webster's Big Dictionary," "Webster's Encyclopedic Dictionary," etc., etc.

Many announcements concerning them are very misleading, as the body of each, from A to Z, is 44 years old, and printed from cheap plates made by photographing the old pages.

Architecture of the Renaissance in England.

Illustrated by a series of Views and details from Buildings erected between the years 1560-1630, with Historical and Critical Text. By J. Alfred Gotch, F.R.I.B.A., author of "A Complete Account of the Buildings of Sir Thomas Tresham." Assisted by W. Talbot Brown, A.R.I.B.A.

To be published in Six Parts Folio, each containing Twenty-two Plates, Seventeen or Eighteen reproduced from Photographs specially taken for the Work, and the others from Drawings by the Authors. With Letterpress illustrated by numerous Sketches.

The size of the plates is 14 x 10 inches, on fine paper, 19 x 14.

Messrs. Ticknor & Company have secured the exclusive sale for America, and publish by arrangement with Mr. B. T. Batsford, the London publisher, a limited edition of this valuable work. Part One is now ready, and the others will follow at intervals of two or three months.

The price before publication is $8.00 per part in portfolio. After May 1st the price will be raised to $10.00 per part.

Artistic Homes

In City and Country, with other examples of Domestic Architecture. By Albert W. Fuller and Wm. Arthur Wheeler, Architects.

Fifth Revised Edition, with 70 full-page illustrations from original drawings and photographs. One volume oblong quarto, $6.00.

This work, so well and favorably known, is practically a new work as now reissued, enlarged, and in every way improved. The authors say concerning their work:

"The fourth edition of 'Artistic Homes' being now exhausted, and the demand for the work continuing, the authors are led to publish this, the fifth revised edition. In the preparation of it they have endeavored to alter and improve the whole work so as to make it, as far as possible, representative of the latest phases of American Domestic Architecture. With this object in view, they have discarded many of the older illustrations and have replaced them by ones of later work, adding at the same time a few miscellaneous examples of other buildings recently designed by them in the line of Domestic Work.

"To keep abreast of the tide of improvement, to aid those about to build to secure what is best and most desirable, to show them how use, beauty and economy may be combined, are the aims of the authors. They venture to hope that their book will be found quite as interesting, if not more so, than heretofore."

A FAMOUS WORK.

The Memoirs of Talleyrand.

Edited with preface and copious explanatory notes, by the DUC DE BROGLIE. Translated by Raphaël Ledos de Beaufort. With introduction by the Hon. Whitelaw Reid. The work is to be completed in five volumes. VOLUMES I. AND II. NOW READY. Octavo, with portraits and fac-similes of manuscript. Each, $2.50.

Contents: Volume I.—Part I. The Years Preceding the Revolution, 1754–1791—Part II. The Duc d'Orleans—Part III. The Convention; The Directory; The Consulate; The Early Years of the Empire, 1791–1808—Part IV. Spanish Affairs, 1807—Part V. The Erfurt Interview, 1808.

Volume II.—Part VI. Napoleon's Marriage; His Brothers; His Struggle with Pius VII., 1809–1813—Part VII. The Fall of the Empire; The Restoration, 1813–1814—Part VIII. Congress of Vienna, 1814–1815.

"They are the most valuable contribution made in our time to the history of the new France and the new Europe which had their birth in the Revolution."—N. Y. World.

"The Memoirs of Talleyrand are both interesting and valuable. The chief charm of the first portion of the Memoirs lies in the acute and quite elaborate analysis by Talleyrand of those elements in French society previous to the Revolution which, in his opinion, made the Revolution possible. It is impressive, brilliant and once read not easily forgotten. . . . The accuracy and fidelity of this copy of the Memoirs have been disputed. But we see no good reason for doubting them. They are vouched for in the most formal manner by the present editor and by M. de Bacourt, the immediate custodian of the manuscripts, named by Talleyrand himself."—N. Y. Times.

The concluding volumes will follow at brief intervals.

LEADERS IN SCIENCE.

I.—The Life and Work of Charles DARWIN. By CHARLES F. HOLDER, author of "Living Lights," "The Ivory King," etc., etc. 12mo, illustrated, cloth, $1.50.

The Vikings in Western Christendom. A.D. 789–888. By CHARLES F. KEARY, author of "Outlines of Primitive Belief," "The Dawn of History," etc. 8vo, cloth extra, with map, $2.50.

"It presents an unfamiliar side of the history of Europe during the eighth and ninth centuries, and helps one to form some idea of the ethnic proportions in the present race which calls itself Anglo-Saxon, to the exclusion of the later-coming swarms of Danes and Norsemen. It is a needed work and one well done."—N. Y. Times.

PRANG'S AMERICAN Christmas and New Year Publications, SEASON 1890-1891.

NEW CARDS, NEW CALENDARS, NEW BOOKS,
NEW NOVELTIES in PAPER and SATIN, NEW PICTURES,
NEW STUDIES, NEW STYLES, NEW ARTISTS.

Our travellers are about to start on their Spring trip with samples of our coming holiday publications. Our line of this year is an exceptionally strong one, and contains more fresh features than that of any former years. Being all designed, painted, lithographed, printed and made up in this country, it is as heretofore the before the public, and our dealers will do well to await our samples before placing their orders.

The increased sale of cards last Christmas was a contradiction to the assertion that cards are going out, and hence we have turned our attention anew to that part of our line, and have added to it new attractions by new artists.

The number and variety of our Calendars is very large.

NEW CHRISTMAS PICTURES.

Great efforts are made by us to get out new pictures which shall be at once popular in subject and artistic in composition and execution. Among others we show several new ones by IDA WAUGH, and another chicken picture by A. F. TAIT, called "Take Care."

Two humorous pictures, "The Prize Piggies" and "Age 4 Weeks" are bound to be very popular. Others are:

A classic head, called "Roma," by SARAH CHOATE SEARS; "Phyllis," by ROSINA EMMET SHERWOOD; new landscapes by HARLOW; a beautiful new Rose Panel, and a pair of Children's Heads in Monochrome.

NEW ART-BOOKS.

The Day Dawneth. By Albert S. Watson. Illustrated by W. G. Beal. A Companion to "The Night Cometh." In elegant and appropriate binding.

Bits of Old Concord, Mass. With Photographures by Louis K. Harlow.

A Day's Fishing. Illustrated by F. Schuyler Mathews. A stamped-out shape booklet.

The Christmas Salad. By Lizzie K. Harlow. A stamped-out shape booklet.

A Tennis Set. Illustrated by Louis K. Harlow.

The Story of Mrs. Polly. By Lizbeth B. Comins.

Places that Our Lord Loved. By Frederic W. Farrar, D.D. Illustrated by F. Schuyler Mathews. With an introduction by Kinsley Twining, D.D.

Wedding Bells. Selected by Isabel Gordon. Profusely illustrated. A souvenir wedding autograph-book.
